The Love, KK Scholarship offered through the Global Education Office (GEO) is open only to George Mason University students participating in a Global Education Office (GEO) summer program in Milan Italy with a minimum 2.5 GPA.

This scholarship will be awarded to one student in the amount of $1000. The scholarship is need- and merit-based and each applicant is carefully considered. Applicants are encouraged to share special circumstances, personal stories, or any other connections that demonstrate why and how the student will benefit from their chosen program in Milan Italy and the scholarship award.

Scholarship awards are designed to supplement a student's funds during the program. Scholarship recipients will be notified of their award before the pre-departure orientation in mid-May. Scholarship applicants must also have a qualifying program application completed before they will be considered for the scholarship.

Checks are expected to be available after the Pre-Departure Orientation event for each term. All program fees must be paid in full to receive the check. Scholarships will not be disbursed to students who cancel their participation in the program or if the program is cancelled. Repayment of the scholarship is required by students who withdraw from the program after disbursement.

KK Brady was a star athlete and loving person. She played soccer at GMU and had a great desire to travel the world. After college, KK was living her dream. As a young entrepreneur.

“Here Megan and I sit next to the Duomo di Milano, a landmark. Surrounding the cathedral lives endless shopping and gelato. I saw the Duomo in the heat, lit up at night, and I even climbed to the top and saw Italian life from above. Living in Milan for a month was the experience of a lifetime.“ --KK
